

A clear next step.

A coach in your corner.

1 Start with your family account

Use your private invitation and the same parent email used for your introduction. Open ballerpath.com/account. Keep private invitation links within your family.

2 Coach Keith confirms the next step

I review your introduction within two business days (Monday-Friday, Central Time). After fit review, you receive an invoice by email. Payment never automatically activates access.

3 Open Today, then do the work

Once activated, Today points to your next action. Development shows your focus. Open your assignment, follow the instructions, and share an honest reflection. Coach feedback helps shape the next adjustment.

4 Ask questions and stay connected

A one-time First-Week Check-In is included after activation. Book at ballerpath.com/book?type=onboarding. Later meetings follow your confirmed membership allowance. Film review and video submissions are not open at launch.

Need help?

Email keith@stormbasketballtraining.com for account, scheduling, or coaching help. Routine replies arrive within two business days. Never email passwords or private invitation links.
